

ABOUT US

Low Entropy is a Canadian non-profit organization founded in 2015 with a mission to promote personal growth, leadership development, and community building. This organization is dedicated to helping individuals manage day-to-day challenges, build greater emotional intelligence, and develop their leadership skills in order to become more confident, resilient, and compassionate leaders in their personal and professional lives.

Through our various programs and initiatives, Low Entropy offers workshops, retreats, coaching, and community outreach activities that provide a safe and supportive space for people to connect, learn, and grow together. We aim to empower individuals to create positive change in their communities and beyond by building a supportive community of compassionate and effective leaders. By promoting personal growth, leadership development, and community building through emotional well-being and the development of key skills, Low Entropy is making a positive impact on individuals and communities alike.

MULTICULTURAL CONNECTIONS

FESTIVAL

Multicultural Connections is a vibrant and inclusive event designed to celebrate the rich tapestry of diversity and cultural heritages within local communities. This gathering serves as a platform to honor and embrace the multitude of cultures, traditions, and backgrounds that coexist within our society.

Through a series of engaging activities, performances, and interactive displays, attendees have the opportunity to explore and appreciate the unique customs, languages, arts, music, and cuisines that make up our collective human experience. Multicultural Connection aims to foster understanding, promote inclusivity, and create meaningful connections between people from various walks of life, ultimately strengthening the bonds of unity and respect within our community.

We thank the Spirit of Coquitlam Grant for making the Multicultural Connections Festival possible and their commitment to promoting unity and diversity in our community.
